Q. I sent an idea before the Idea Portal existed. Is it in the Idea Portal now?

Ideas submitted to the Service Center prior to Idea Portal will not be brought over to the Idea Portal. Please resubmit your idea to the Idea Portal.

Q. Why are there so many mandatory fields required for an idea?

The team is better able to understand ideas that have as much information as possible.

Q. I've submitted an idea. What happens next?

An Idea Manager validates the idea. In turn, the idea goes into our system and is discussed by the larger product development teams.

Q. Why is my idea in Draft status?

All new ideas are in a draft status until the team evaluates them. Then the status will be updated. More on statuses here.

Q. Why hasn't my idea moved to a different status?

Statuses are updated when ideas have been fully reviewed.

All ideas are reviewed. Some ideas are already in the works and other times we need to wait for other updates before we can proceed. When other users upvote your idea, the idea may be brought before the team to see if the idea can come to fruition sooner than planned.

Q. How do you track an idea after submission?

An automated email message is sent to you. The email gives status updates. If you're following an idea that is not your own, you will also receive a weekly email status update on that idea.

Q. What does upvoting do?

Upvoting is a tool to support Product Development prioritization. Ideas with the highest upvoting represent which ideas are the most important to iQIES users. Usually, these ideas will be brought before the Prioritization Team sooner.

Q. Why can't I vote on my own idea?

Your vote counts when you create the idea. You can only vote on other people's ideas.

Q. Sometimes I can't vote on someone else's idea. What's going on?

You cannot upvote any ideas with the following statuses:

- In Development
- Completed
- Unlikely to implement
- Duplicate
- Already exists

Q. Can I look at someone else's Idea?

All ideas are available to view.

Q. What happens when I subscribe to someone else's Idea?

You receive weekly email notifications for that idea.

Q. Will the Idea Portal extend to other websites we use?

Possibly. If enough interest is shown, the Idea Portal could be expanded.

Q. Why did you build this thing?

CMS is passionate about listening to our users and creating a community atmosphere for collaboration to help support the development of iQIES.
